Lac La Biche Sets Nomination Day

Touring Newsmen Thrilled By Scenic Beauty Of Lake Area

LAC LA BICHE — A group of newsmen, headed by George LesStrange, Red Deer, head of the Alberta Tourist Association, were entertained here September 13 and 14. The men were travelling to various points throughout the province and were met in Athabasca Wednesday evening by M. Maccagno, MLA, Mike Hamar, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and Dr. D. D. Bouvier, president of the Golf and Country Club.

After spending the night at the Maccagno cottage at Beaver Lake, the gentlemen experienced the thrill of fishing on beautiful Beaver Lake. A barbeque lunch on the terrace at the cottage was followed by a cruise on Lac la Biche in the cabin cruiser owned by T. W. Pue, of Sun Publishing Co., with John Johanson at the helm.

The weather was perfect for the outing and the lake was calm and placid. The group called at Lac la Biche Mission, cruised around the islands and on to Owl River.

On their return from the afternoon's adventures a delegation from Cold Lake was waiting to take them to that town. The visiting group was unanimous in its amazement at the scenic beauty of the district and the potentialities for a tourist centre. Many pictures were taken by the men and information gathered. Their intentions are to publish articles in both Canadian and American magazines and newspapers on the unspoiled beauty and unsurpassed vacation possibilities of the area.

Those in the group included E. Neale, Claresholm, representing the Canadian Weekly Newspaper Association; Clyde Reichelt, Great Falls, Mont. of the Great Falls Tribune; A. E. Turner, Western Producer, Saskatoon; Mel Hinds, Lethbridge Herald; Stan Reid, Red Deer Advocate, and Ed Grah, Calgary Albertan.

Blame Boy Scouts For Forest Fires

PENTICTON—Boy Scout activities were among the leading causes of forest fires in the Penticton area this year says district forest ranger Emerey Scott.

He laid the blame on scout leaders.

Speaking to the Penticton Fish, Game and Rifle Club the ranger blamed the scouts' "very poor training in the field" for the fact that their activities have been responsible for as many blazes as any other single cause.

He emphasized, however, he does not blame the scouts for their poor fire prevention record. Rather he blamed those in charge of the scouts who "either do not know or are not giving the boys proper instruction in camping out."

Mayor Maccagno Ends 2-Year Term, Two Council Seats To Be Filled

LAC LA BICHE—Wednesday, Sept. 27 has been proclaimed nomination day for the forthcoming town elections. Michael Maccagno's two-year term as mayor of Lac la Biche expires this year.

The terms of two councillors James Hamar and Eli Tkachuk, both on the public works committee of council, also expire this year, bringing to three the number of vacancies to be filled.

Notices are posted in various places throughout the town this week proclaiming nomination day date.

The town secretary, who has been appointed returning officer, will receive nomination papers between the hour of 11:00 a.m. and 12:00 noon on September 27.

In spite of the fact that elections are always advertized as required, complaints have sometimes been received after previous elections saying that residents were not aware that the time for the annual voting had arrived until the results were announced. Many do not take much heed to printed municipal notices appearing on power poles or in store windows, with the result that the privilege of voting is sometimes missed. Council is desirous that the public be well informed and that each qualified voter take the opportunity to express his or her choice in this important matter.

Blank nomination papers will be available at the town office, and electors are reminded that papers should not be presented either before or after the specified hour.

Athabasca School Results Well Above Provincial Average

Highlight of the two day School Committee meeting of the County of Athabasca came during the superintendent's period when M. G. Gault announced the results of the 1961 June examinations.

His report on the results of the Grade 9 and Grade 12 examinations showed the county to be well above the provincial average. A letter of commendation was ordered written to the principals and staffs for their part in obtaining these results.

In Grade 12 there were 377 papers written and of these 279 or 71.35 per cent obtained matriculation standing (B or better).

In Grade 9 163 wrote of which 2.45 per cent or four received honors. One hundred and forty-three or 87 per cent passed and 11 percent or 16, failed.

Those with honors will receive the honors pin presented by the county annually. The honors students were Jean M. Brown, Lynne J. McKinlay, Arlene M. Stubel and Maryanne Luba. One of these will receive the Governor-General's medal, but announcement has not yet been made.

It was suggested that possibly one reason for improved results was the laggard student policy and a recommendation was made to put the policy into action earlier in the school term.

There were one hundred teachers on staff at the time of the meeting, lacking only a home economics teacher at Athabasca and a commercial teacher at Boyle and Grassland.

Aproval was given R. T. Baker, the industrial arts teacher, regarding his desire to purchase a lathe and other accessories.

Approval was given to supply all schools with film strip projectors and an initial supply of $100 worth of film strips. Classes where these will be used mostly are social studies, biology and chemistry.

Policies in respect of attendances of high school students were discussed and it was felt more teeth were needed in the policy. A new draft will be presented at the next meeting.

The School Act requires arrangements for supervision during the school day to be made. One has been received.

C. D. Ledgerwood, principal at Athabasca Elementary school, submitted a list of recommendations mainly regarding the school plant and action will be taken on some and others are being further investigated.

Literature from the Child Safety Council of Canada was perused and a representative of the council will call at the next meeting.

Superintendent Gault was asked to make recommendations in regard to a piano-organ for Richmond Park school.

V. Breckenridge, chairman of the property management committee, reported on the progress of the repair program during the past month.

A lengthy discussion ensued on conveyance problems.

On the subject of skating rinks, the county will do initial flooding of school rinks this year and those rinks that were not levelled last year will be levelled this year prior to flooding.

It was decided the county will again provide a luncheon for the county teachers at the ATA convention.

It is believed the recreation grant for the Smith-Spurfield district will be used for playground on the school, but there is still more negotiating to be done.

E. Parr, chairman, M. G. Gault, superintendent and John Long, music teacher, will need to discuss the latter's recommendations in regard to adding a string section to the Athabasca band and forming a nucleus band in one other school.

The matter of convention delegates to the ASTA convention was left to the October meeting.

Accounts were ordered approved and sent to the County council.

An agreement is being made with Northland School Division to accommodate high school students in Athabasca.

Five applications were made for boarding allowances in private homes and ten from the hotels.

One application for bursary was approved and one loan was suggested.

Three additional teacher appointments were made.

Hylo

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bones of Rainy River, Ont., were guests at the home of the latter's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Pivin.

Miss Carole Keehn was home for her holiday recently.

Mrs. M. Zalewsky returned to Edmonton last Thursday after spending two weeks at the home of her son.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lichonuk, Kathy, Walter Jr. and Mrs. F. Poholski, motored to Newbrook recently to visit Mr. and Mrs. Fred Revega.

Amber Valley

Rev. and Mrs. Ford were in the district over the weekend. Mr. Ford preached in the Amber Valley Church Sunday morning and at Grassland in the afternoon.

Kenneth Hinton came home last week after being away over a year working.

Mr. and Mrs. David Brown, Glenora and Lou were home over the weekend.

Marjorie Murphy left Sunday after spending two weeks at home.

The Prosperity post office was moved to Johnnie Flasher's after C. Gagnon sold out.

Plan Air Fix Of Athabasca, Barrhead Towns

Aerial photographing of the towns of Barrhead and Athabasca is scheduled for this fall as part of a long range planning study for the towns being prepared by the provincial government planning advisory board.

Noel Dant, director of town and rural planning, said the council of the two towns asked for provincial assistance preparing a 20-year planning study. Mr. Dant met town officials and has obtained board authorization to go ahead with the planning study.

"So many towns now are facing real problems in expansion because of lack of planning," said Mr. Dent. He said requests have come from all over the province for assistance in planning.

Long range plans have been prepared for Lloydminster, Edson and Drayton Valley with many other towns on the waiting list.

The towns share the cost of the mapping and photographing with the province.

The aerial photographing is scheduled to take place after the leaves have fallen but before snowfall. An early snowfall could delay the photographing until spring.

Ellscott

Miss Frances Pelsma, who is now attending Alberta College in Edmonton, was a weekend visitor at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. Pelsma.

The Ellscott School teaching staff for the new term consists of Mrs. Vi Kowalchuk, Junior room; Mrs. Elizabeth Isaac, Intermediate; and Gene Kowalchuk, Senior room and also principal.

TIPS FOR PARENTS

By HELEN R. HEWSON—Parent Education Associates

AS parents relax on porch or beach and watch their young people at play, it suddenly occurs to many of them that these children are growing up.

Summer's end brings a rash of inquiries, "How can I explain the physiological changes of puberty to my son or daughter?"

Giving growing children information about the facts of life is comparatively easy. But developing responsible attitudes and feelings requires more than two or three sessions of questions and answers.

Sharing factual knowledge is only a part of the information that has been slowly gathering since infancy.

Family affection and respect for each other, opportunities to develop a sense of responsibility and self-control in all areas of life provide the basis for good personal development.

Sex growth and development is but a part of the whole. Young people who are passing through this period of physical change and growing self-awareness need to find many outlets for their drive and energies.

School work, sports, hobbies, arts and crafts, and a reasonable happy and orderly home life help them to see life whole, to develop balance and control.

This development is a slow process and for many adolescents and their parents it is an uncertain and puzzling period.

Fortunately there are some excellent publications that bring practical help and assurance to both parents and their young folks.

A small pamphlet titled "Adolescence" is published by the Department of National Health and Welfare.

This is free and available from your own local public health office.

Jean Kupchenko, Robert Michetti Pledge Vows At St. Catherine's

LAC LA BICHE — St. Catherine's Roman Catholic Church was the scene of the recent wedding of Miss Jean Emily Kupchenko and Mr. Robert Michetti.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Kupchenko and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Michetti, all of Lac la Biche.

Rev. Father Veil officiated at the double-ring ceremony in which the bride was given in marriage by her father.

Mrs. Robert Joncas played the wedding music and accompanied the choir.

The bride chose a floor-length gown of lace and net over silk with fitted bodice and bouffant skirt. The scalloped neckline was outlined with sequins and her chapel veil misted from a dainty crown of brilliants. She carried a white prayer book garlanded with red roses and white streamers.

Attending the bride were Miss Phyllis Kozak, Lac la Biche; Miss Judy Mazar, Edmonton, cousin of the bride, and Misses Rosie Michetti and Carolyn Biollo, both cousins of the groom, Hylo.

Miss Kozak wore a gown of yellow chiffon over taffeta and the other attendants were dressed identically in pink. Their dresses were street-length with bouffant skirts, rounded necklines and three quarter length sleeves. Their headpieces were of white velvet and net and their bouquets were pink and white.

Karon Michetti, sister of the groom, and Gloria Kozakevich, niece of the bride, were flower girls. They were dressed in pink with matching flower bandeaux and they carried baskets of pink and white flowers.

Attending the groom were Mr. Victor Biollo, cousin of the groom, Mr. Lavern Southwick, Mr. Donald Michetti, brother of the groom, and Mr. David Gatzke.

Following the church service, a dinner for some 60, including the wedding party and relatives of the bride and groom, was held in the Memorial Hall.

To receive her guests, the mother of the bride chose a brown and white flowered dress with white accessories and red roses en corsage. Mrs. Michetti, mother of the groom wore a blue crepe afternoon dress with lace bodice. Her accessories were white also and she wore a red rose corsage.

A reception for 500 friends was held at 5 p.m. in the hall. Mr. Mike Grandinetti, Hylo, uncle of the groom, was master-of-ceremonies, and proposed the toast to the bride. Mr. R. Michetti, father of the groom, said grace.

The Kozakevich Orchestra from Craigend furnished music for dancing.

Mr. and Mrs. Michetti will reside in Lac la Biche.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included: Mr. and Mrs. Otto Michetti, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Zaharie, Mr. and Mrs. John Holkow, Mr. Harold Hirst, Mr. A. Marchesi, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Stuparyk, all of Edmonton; Mr. and Mrs. John Huculak, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Chaban, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Andrich, all of Rochester; Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Wallace, Pouce Coupe; Mrs. Martha Lahansky, Owlseye; Mr. and Mrs. George Danyluk, Redwater, and Mr. and Mrs. Wally Goricuk, Boyle.

THE CHARTERED BANKS SERVING YOUR COMMUNITY

OUR COMMONWEALTH

The Flag And The Anthem

By H. E. Carran

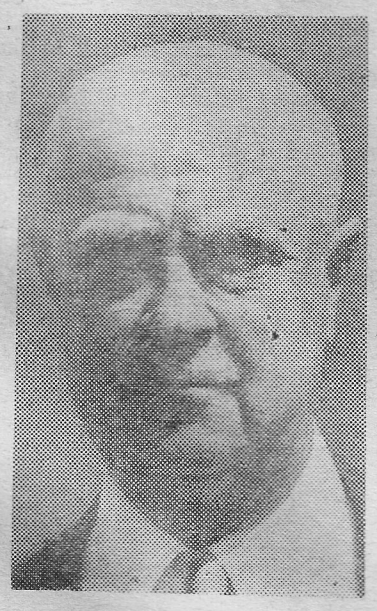
Our Commonwealth has proved itself a body of sovereign states so strongly united that not even the strain of two world wars could break it and this strength comes directly from the fact that it is held together by ideals and not by military or police force. And ideals are represented by symbols, chief among which is the Flag.

The ideals of our Commonwealth come directly from the Christian religion, the chief symbol of which is the cross. Therefore it is fitting that the flag of our Commonwealth should be the Union Jack, composed of the English upright Red Cross of St. George, the Scottish diagonal White Cross of St. Andrew, and the Irish diagonal Red Cross of St. Patrick, all interwoven on a blue ground so that none seem to take precedence. All parts of our Commonwealth should share this symbol for it is the sign of our common Christian heritage.

Displayed alone, the Union Jack represents the entire Commonwealth as a united whole, one nation of many parts and occupying many lands. But it can also be used as an Ensign to denote that the one displaying it wishes to be recognized as a certain, separate part of the Commonwealth and when so used the Union Jack occupies the upper quarter of the Ensign next to the staff and the "coat of arms" of the particular nation is displayed on the fly.

It is not commonly known that in the Union Jack there is also a fourth cross, an upright white cross superimposed on the Red Cross of St. George. This was long known in Heraldry as the "unclaimed cross." But in 1951 the province of Quebec adopted as its own particular flag, a white upright cross on a blue ground. So, knowingly or unknowingly, it looks as though our French-speaking brothers have claimed this one and thus claimed their place in the British nation along with the English, Scottish and Irish.

Another curious thing about the Union Jack, with its crossed crosses, is that the diagonal crosses, besides being the arithmetical sign of multiplication, are also the first letter of the Hebrew alphabet, known as Aleph, while the upright crosses, the plus sign, are also the last letter of the Hebrew alphabet, known as Tau. In the Book of Revelation, which was originally written in Greek, our God describes Himself in these words "I am Alpha and Omega, the first and the last" (Rev. 1:11) thus using the first and last letters of the Greek alphabet to bring to the finite mind of man some idea of the completeness and the power of God, that He is the first and the last, the all-powerful.



H. E. CARRAN

Thus our flag declares, but in Hebrew letters instead of Greek, "We serve Him who is the Aleph and the Tau, the first and the last, God Almighty."

Canada's Red Ensign, which has been officially proclaimed our national flag although not yet ratified as such by the required Act of Parliament, is particularly appropriate and complete. As letters arranged in a certain order in writing form words, so in Heraldry symbols speak of historic events.

And here is what, in part, Canada's Red Ensign says "By the Union Jack in my upper quarter next the staff I proclaim my people to be one of the nations of the British Commonwealth of free and sovereign states. In the "Coat of Arms" displayed on my fly the three couchant lions proclaim that my people are descented in part from the English. By the Red Lion Rampant on the golden field I tell you that they are also descended from the Scottish people. The Harp, shown on my third quarter says that descendants of the Irish are also here. And the Fleur de Lis on my fourth quarter tells you that descendants of Frenchmen who came to Canada while France was still a monarchy, also form part of my people. And the three Maple Leaves at the bottom of the Shield declare that these people are now united as One Nation.

It would be difficult, indeed many who have made a study of Heraldry believe it would be impossible to design a more appropriate Canadian National Flag.

Our Commonwealth is united by the throne and it is very fitting that our National Anthem should bear witness to that fact. But the anthem "God Save the Queen" is also peculiarly fitting as the National Anthem of the God-serving nations in that it is a prayer to God for help, guidance, protection and blessing. It would be a cause for great sorrow and concern if Canada, the senior overseas member of our Commonwealth, were to discard it in favor of a mere boast of our own greatness or, as one radio newscaster recently put it "if Canadians should adopt a separate song with which to sing their country's praise."

Let us rather, as a nation, praise God, not ourselves.

'Back To Prosperity' Project Of Liberals, Says Mike Pearson

DEMERS CENTRE, Que. — Liberal Leader Lester B. Pearson said here the Liberal party is prepared to "get Canada out of its stagnation and back into prosperity."

Addressing an overflow crowd of more than 700 at a dinner rally in this Allumette Island community, across the Ottawa River from Pembroke, Ont., he said Liberals across the country are getting ready to fight the most important election in the party's modern history.

Hotel manager Sylvio St. Jean said 700 seats were provided for the $3-a-plate Liberal party diner. The crowd overflowed into an adjoining room.

Mr. Pearson said four years of Diefenbaker administration have led to a stagnation of the Canadian economy. "The paradise promised by the Conservatives has not been realized."

The Conservatives were spending more than they collected in tax revenue, and were following the nation with deficit financing. Despite overspending, the government was unable to defeat massive unemployment.

"Our first problem is going to be to get people back to work," he said. "The Conservatives haven't been able to solve the critical unemployment situation, even with a federal budget of almost $2,000,000,000."

He hit at the government for "preaching and whining" about Britain's decision to join the European Common Market. Instead of complaining, the government should be doing something about developing an Atlantic free trade area to take up the slack.

THE Homemaker

By BERTHA M. McCUTCHEON

School has started once again. The young people are getting back "into the groove" of fall and winter activities. Now is the time to think of satisfying projects for their spare time. Is your district interested in forming a girls' 4-H club? Requirement: At least eight girls from the ages of 12-20; a local leader. Objectives: To help girls develop desirable ideals and standards of home-making; to develop habits of healthful living; to train girls in co-operating through work and play; to further their interest in continuing education; to develop ability in leadership and build self-confidence in the girls.

B. McCutcheon

KINDS OF CLUBS

Clothing Project: The clothing project covers several things, personal grooming, posture, care of clothes, selection of clothes and clothing construction. Members begin their sewing on small useful articles, directions of which are given in the project book. The girls are soon advanced enough in sewing to make pyjamas, housecoats, dresses, skirts and blouses and other articles of clothing they require.

Food Project: The food project includes a review of health practices and a check on personal food habits, menu planning, food preparation, table setting, and service. The girls prepare foods and help with family meals. They advance from the basic principles involved in making biscuits, muffins, custards, cream sauces and soups, and serving simple home meals, club lunches, and teas to the preparation of main dish foods and serving a more elaborate meal, including a club banquet. In the third year they learn to prepare and serve food for special occasions such as school and picnic lunches, buffet meals, formal teas and buffet luncheons.

Home Decoration Projects: Members start this project by working on their own rooms. With the co-operation of their parents, they plan and decorate this room in accordance with the principles of home decoration. Articles are made which fit into their room. As the members continue with the projects they work on other rooms in the home, and help with the decoration and furnishing.

If you would like to organize a club in your district please contact your district home economist, Bertha M. McCutcheon, Westlock; Barrhead every Thursday at the Provincial Building.

Anderson Rodeo At Colinton Excellent Show

By H. T. Thompson

The Bar A.N, Ranch supplied the cattle and the most solid by built corrals of any I have seen. Six separate shoots and the holding corrals and lanes are laid out with a system of gates that allows hazers who work to bring the stock with the least delay possible.

The man who master-minded this intricate system of handling bad horses with safety and speed is Freddy Le Caine who proudly boasts his forefathers never touched European or Asian soil in many generations. Quipped about his French name, he replied, "On that was an accident, my parents used the cane so often the neighbors called me Freddy of the Cane. I couldn't live it down so I changed it to Le Caine. Really you know, I'm a Sioux Indian.

Forty years young, this cowboy is game to tackle the bad ones and follows rodeos in any capacity that pays him money. He clowned in the central corral, two days with a badly burned foot, rode two bad horses and took a header for the crown's amusement on a racing horse in the calf roping. The man's artistic work on the Anderson rodeo signs must be seen to be appreciated. I challenge any art teacher in the Athabasca area to equal the marvellous exact proportions and life like portrayal of a bucking bronc in the Anderson advertisement, his material two old Ford car doors and ordinary colored house paints.

The McDonald Brothers, contracted their string of bucking horses, 31 in number. All are first class bucking horses and it takes a real good rider to stay on top for 10 seconds on the saddle broncs and eight in the bare back riding.

Blue Mountain, a huge grey horse, 1500 pounds sky scraping, back twisting pile driving energy, generally unseats his rider in five seconds. No rider has yet ridden out the full time on his back in two years of rodeo work. He has three cowboy accidents to his credit.

Tar Baby, a beautiful black mare in my opinion ranks next to Mr. Blue Mountain. Any man that draws her name and rides past the bell is in the money or is eating dust in much less time. Vern Franklin from Marwayne, one of the best riders in the prairie circuit, stuck her for nine seconds. I do not think that I ever saw a better ride or such blazing bucking fury as she displayed that afternoon.

Vern registered his first buck off in 12 rodeos this summer, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. The big blond guy climbs broncs as nonchantley selfconfident as any cigar smoking saleman steps into the company car.

Bill Sands from Rocky Mountain House, a one-time Golden Glove champion, quit that sport for bronc riding. He has taken money in 50 different rodeos. Although he claims to be an amateur. He won the Benzel trophy as all-around cowboy at the Hylo stampede on the McDonald ranch. He took the big money at South Hylo and again at Collington. For my money he is strictly professional, I would have enjoyed seeing him top Blue Mountain or watched him straddle that shinning beaut Tar Baby. We all enjoyed watching him taks a header in the steer riding from a black faced cow. Even the best riders hit a snag but that cow deserves alfalfa hay the rest of the coming winter.

Robbie McDonald, manager and contractor of the bucking string on the McDonald ranch, is no slouch in any event that comes up in a rodeo. Generally he gets in the money one way or another. A nervy rider who takes his turn calmly and win loss or draw rides them strictly according to rules. He took first in calf roping at Bonnyville 1959; second money at Meadow Lake against some stiff opposition in saddle bronc riding. Placed first in wild horse race both days at Hylo and at Hobbema this summer was in the money both days. The big boys in rodeo better watch their P's and Q's, Robbie will be tough opposition one of these days.

Willie Ladoucer, another tough boy who has finally found an outlet for his energies, took third money against Sands and Franklin in the saddle bronc riding, with more practice and a rigid abstinence, could reach tops among the best riders. The fact that he was almost killed when the pick-up man missed his hold and Willie nearly got tramped by the bucker didn't affect his nerve and he carried on the rest of his entries without complaint.

Joe Howse from Brisco, B.C., had tough luck on Charming Billy the first day. Cold weather that first day affects riders as it does baseball players; but Joe's ride on Wandering River the second day, which was much warmer, was really classed high in the judging. He took first money in the saddle bronc ride out but lost the prize money due to a rule that scores the points for both days and gives the money to the high score man. This rule will be changed next year for day-money both days. The high score rule will only apply to the entry fees charged to any cowboy competing in each event. Prize money will be alotted to the rider who earns it on any of the two day events. The horse Wandering River is a fast, hard, trickly twister that bucks in a small area, leaps high in one direction but comes down facing another and changes his pace in mid air, but Joe stuck him like a leach and beat the bell.

The McDonald shows are attracting riders from three provinces, although this is only their second year of operation. High Prairie is their next objective and arrangements for a show there are already in the formative stages. Riders have confidence that they will receive a square deal and my conversation with most of these outside contestants assures me that more riders will participate as the rodeo becomes better advertised.

McDonald Brothers are adding to their string of buckers each year and, veterans like Sands and Franklin assure me, these people have more tough riding horses already in the contests than some of the big outfits that make rodeo contracting their business.

For those of us who have tasted the joys and exhileration of topping a bad one, a rodeo is a must. When you can attend one in your own district for the expense of a little gas and time, even if you have never ridden a tame saddle horse, I know of no better way of having a thrill than watching these bad horses and game cowboys match their skill and knowledge in this most dangerous of all sports. They risk life and limb for your entertainment and sometimes their only reward is looking up at the smiling face of a nurse as she cares for them as a patient with a broken arm, leg or twisted back.

Lac La Biche Town Council Approves Building Permits

The September 12 meeting of Lac la Biche town council ws attended by Councillors Vincent, Tkachuk, Bouvier, Hamar and Shanks, as well as Mayor Maccagno and Secretary Creighton.

Five applications for building permits, totalling $17,500 were approved. Two permits were for homes and accounted for $13,000 while $3,000 will be spent on a hall for the Sea Cadets and a private garage will cost $1,000. An addition to a general store warehouse is estimated to cost $500.

A letter was read from the Lac la Biche school division in which a request was made that the Memorial Hall be made available to the Students' Union for non-profit school functions. It was pointed out that, since the school gymnasium has been temporarily divided into classrooms to relieve the classroom shortage caused by the disastrous loss of the Dr. Swift High School by fire last June, the students are deprived of their usual place of recreation. Council agreed to let the students have use of the hall without charge with the understanding that those who wish to rent the hall will have first choice of dates.

A proposed sub-division of part of Block L, with amended provisions mined and given approval of the council.

First reading was given to by-law No. 340 authorizing the purchase of a grader.

A complaint was heard from two ratepayers, stating that a power pole in the lane through Block 29 was placed so as to cause extreme inconvenience to the owners of the adjacent lots on each side of the lane.

The town's program of sidewalk and curb construction was discussed, several councillors speaking in favor of placing curbs some distance further from the property lines so as to allow for wider sidewalks. While no definite action was taken at this meeting, it is understood that details as to exact measurements will be worked out to provide for extra width of sidewalks in the business area of the town.

The council has given authority for the purchase of two signs welcoming comers to Lac la Biche at the points where the highways enter the town. Councillors were asked to give some thought to suitable slogans and wording for the signs. Some suggested promoting a contest for the selection of a slogan. Anyone with a good suggestion should make it known.

Rev. S. L. Munro read the marriage vows for the sixth daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Burdek of Grandin and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Armstrong of Sarnia, Ont., before the altar banked with pink and white gladioli and sweet peas.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a floor-length gown of white silk organza. The fitted bodice had a scalloped neckline and lily-point sleeves. A crown of seed pearls held her chapel veil and the bride carried a cascade bouquet of red roses.

Mrs. Hamar was dressed in a blue bengaline ensemble with maching head piece. The bridesmaids wore identical gowns of blue silk organza with full skirts and short sleeves and matching head pieces. Each carried a bouquet of blue and white roses.

The bride's nieces, Debra Hamar and Wanda Fleming, were flower girls. Their frocks were pink and blue nylon, respectively. They wore flower bandeaux and carried baskets of flowers.

GREEN ACRES

By Fred Strashok, District Agriculturist

As soon as harvest operations are over many cattle owners will be thinking of how to get more milk or beef out of cattle to make more economical operations. Warble flies and cattle lice cause serious economic losses for cattle owners. Until a few years ago owners used derris washes or sprays to control these pests. More recently a newer, systematic chemical, has been put out by chemical companies which, when used in early fall, controls warble grubs and lice for the balance of the year.

The use of derris powder depended on contact control. That is, these chemicals had to make contact with the warble grub through the hole in the animals skin, or the louse in the hair coat. The newer systemics are chemicals which are absorbed into the animal system and kill grubs, lice and other animal parasites at all locations. From experiments it has been found that these systemics control warble grubs up to 99% or close to eradication. Cattle lice are also controlled if treated early in the fall.

It is known that the chemical industries did spend millios of dollars for a good purpose. The first commercial systemic was the Trolene bolus which was administered orally. It was found that it was hard to administer under farm conditions and that it was expensive. Some harmful side-effects were noticed in many cattle. Co-Ral was the first systemic, livestock spray. One proper application in the fall has resulted in satisfactory grub and louse control. Other chemicals are being put out as years progress.

It has been estimated that the Alberta cattlemen lose as much as $10.00 per head because of warble and lice infestation in cattle. It has been found that the loss from "trimmings" alone run as high as $2.57 per head. The loss from poorer gains and milk production is hard to assess.

Because cattle are becoming more popular in the Lac la Biche district it was decided that "Cattle Spraying Demonstrations" be held in different parts of the district to show how spraying is carried out. With the co-operation of the Pest Control Officer of the Alberta Field Crops Branch these demonstrations are going to be held as follows:

Wednesday, September 27, 10:00 a.m. at Mr. Albert Girard's Farmstead at Egg Lake.

Wednesday, September 27, 2:00 p.m. at Mr. Yakoweshyn and Son's Farmstead, Grandin.

Thursday, September 27, 2:00 p.m. at Mr. Charles Parent's Farmstead at Breynat.

All cattle owners are being asked to attend these demonstrations. See for yourself how livestock insect control may be accomplished. Your personal attendance and enquiries are being solicited. In a few years we too may have Cattle Spraying Associations in this area.

Elk Point Wins Colt Tournament

Four Motorists Survive Mishap

MANNVILLE — Enroute home to Edmonton after spending holidays in Saskatchewan, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Cocks, three year old Larry and daughter Shirley aged four months miraculously survived an accident, when their car overturned on highway 16, 1½ miles east of Mannville at approximately 2:30 a.m. Tuesday morning, Sept. 5. Cause of the 1952 model Chrysler sedan overturning in the ditch was a blowout of the left front tire. The rate of speed was estimated at 45 mph. Mr. Cocks claimed they would have been all killed had the speed been 60 mph.

Mr. Cocks and Larry managed to extricate themselves from the overturned vehicle to find Mrs. Cocks in the ditch on the left hand side of the road while Baby Shirley was discovered underneath the car, safe by a clearance of eight inches and surrounded by broken glass. A gash on her right leg required eight stitches, Larry suffered from shock only, while Mr. and Mrs. Cocks suffered lacerations and bruises to face and body and shock.

A passing motorist took them to Mannville Municipal Hospital where Dr. David Hasinoff administered first aid and medical care. The family remained in' the hospital until Wednesday evening when Mr. Cocks' brother came to take them in his car to Edmonton. Extensive damage was done to the car.

Defeats St. Paul Corvairs 13-2 To Earn First Money Of $40.00

The Elk Point baseball team was winner of the first Colt baseball tournament held in St. Paul on Labor Day. The event was sponsored by the Glen Avon Recreation Association. The local boys concluded the tournament by defeating the St. Paul Corvairs by a score of 13 to 5 to win first money of $40. St. Paul made $30 and Goodfish Lake $10.

Elk Point came by its win behind the sturdy pitching arm of O. Shapka who went all the way allowing only three hits while his team backed him up with a single error. Four errors were chalked against St. Paul.

St. Paul's Bob Williams suffered a set back in the third inning, was pulled in favor of Jim Eliuk, but had to come back in the bottom of the fifth to no avail while Elk Point slugged the ball around almost at will. The Point boys got nine hits.

Elk Point played a sound game in the field and at bat were also able to turn on convincing power to lead off the scoring with one in the second, two each in the third, fourth and fifth and a big six in the sixth inning. St. Paul scored singles in the fourth and fifth and three on their last bat, top of the seventh.

Elk Point had no trouble defeating Goodfish 3-0 in a game called in the top of the sixth, while St. Paul got the advantage of a bye of the six team entry.

The first game of the day at 9:00 a.m. started under cloudy skies and a brisk wind. St. Paul defeated Ashmont by a close score of 9-8 with Jimmy Eliuk receiving credit for the win and Vince losing out for Ashmont.

In the second game Elk Point disposed of Saddle Lake 12-7, game called in the sixth, and in the third preliminary, Goodfish Lake whomped the Glendon club a fatal 20-3 score.

Bill Skakun as umpire in-chief called good games, three behind the plate, along with Scotty Jack and Bill Potter. Doug Guthrie was tournament manager with the help of Dr. Ken Tenove. President of the Glen Avon Recreation Association. Al Douglas, and Rick Curtiss did a mighty fine job on the loudspeakers. Mrs. S. Knapp headed a group of ladies in the refreshment booth on behalf of the Boy Scouts and Cubs.

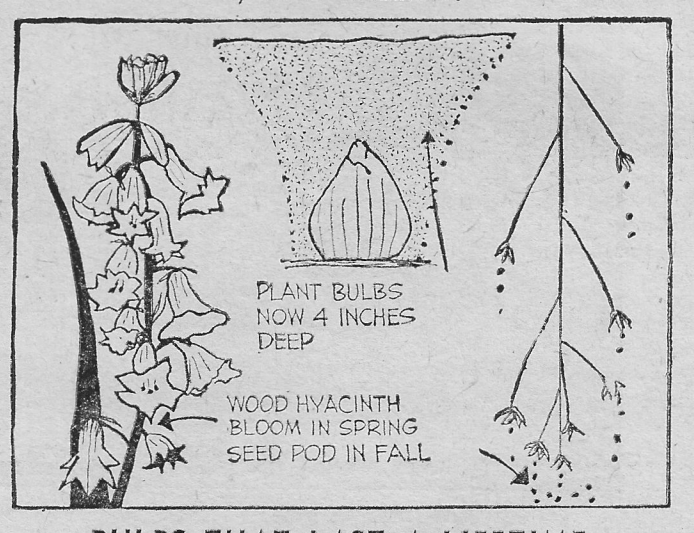
Garden Graph

By DEAN HALLIDAY



BULBS THAT LAST A LIFETIME

SCILLA Hispanica Campanulata are foolproof bulbs which should be included in every garden. They are also known as wood hyacinths or Scotch blue bells.

They bloom at the same time as Darwin and Cottage tulips and combine beautifully with them. Once planted they never require lifting unless they become overly crowded, which does occur after several years. Then they can be divided. They multiply both by bulblets and, as shown in the accompanying Garden-Graph, also by seed. I have never known any insects or disease to bother them.

As shown, the blossoms of wood hyacinths are very graceful, much more so than regular hyacinths. They are available in white, deep and light blue and pink, and cost less than a dollar a dozen.

They will bloom in bright sun or deep shade.

They are hardy and therefore are well suited for the rock garden, for naturalizing or for edging as well as for planting in the mixed hardy border. They will thrive under fir and pine trees where few other plants will grow.

The bulbs should be planted in September or October, four inches deep, as shown, and spaced four inches apart.

Alba maxima is the name of the large white variety. Rose Beauty is a deep pink. There are several blues, Donau a pure blue, Excelsior a deep blue and Myosotis a porcelain blue.
